On Tuesday, March 5, 2024, at approximately 1425 hours I was dispatched to [redacted] in reference to a battery.

Prior to my arrival, the call notes from Volusia County Central Dispatch advised that one of the involved parties of the call was NSBPD Officer Shuchhardt. I arrived on scene and met with NSBPD Sergeant Hunnefeld who instructed me to meet with her in the residence and conduct a well being check.

I made contact with Schuchhardt and asked her if she needed medical attention, in which she denied. I did not ask her any questions and was not involved in the investigation due to a personal conflict of interest.

I did not make contact with the other party of the incident. I was not made aware of the details of the investigation.

NARRATIVE

While the shift supervisor, I heard Central Dispatch, via police radio, dispatch Officers Mattern, VanDusen and Recruit Officer Homen to [redacted] in reference to a disturbance. Due to a previous call for service (NSB Case number 23-08-00265), where I was the shift supervisor, I recognized the residence to be where Officer Jessica Schuchardt resides with her boyfriend, [redacted]

The call notes advised, the reporting party, [redacted] stated that his girlfriend, initially listed as "Jessica Schuchurdd", had hit him, scratched him, and struck him in the face, causing his lip to bleed, due to him finding out she was cheating on him. Due to the call notes, and my belief that Officer Schuchardt was involved in the incident, I notified Captain Kirkland.

I was the first officer on scene, and as I was approaching the residence, I activated my Axon Body Worn Camera. I made contact with [redacted] in the driveway of the residence. I asked [redacted] to explain to me what occurred today. [redacted] informed me prior to the incident occurring, Miss Schuchardt was sleeping. [redacted] advised that he had suspicious of infidelity in the relationship and while Miss Schuchardt was sleeping, he began to look through text messages on her phone. While reviewing the messages, he observed a thread of messages between Miss Schuchardt and New Smyrna Beach Police Sergeant Robert Claudio. [redacted] advised the messages contained numerous sexual innuendos and statements between the two about having sex and other sexual activities. [redacted] advised this made him upset and he confronted Miss Schuchardt. When he confronted her about the messages, an argument between the two ensued and he told her to leave his residence. After he told Miss Schuchardt to leave the residence, he advised she began to hit him in the face, scratch him and put him in a "choke hold". [redacted] advised after Miss Schuchardt had struck him, he called 911 and waited outside.

While speaking with [redacted] I observed a small laceration on his neck, in the center of his throat. I observed a small amount of fresh blood on the cut. I then asked [redacted] if sustained any other injuries and he informed me that Miss Schuchardt had struck him in his lower lip, causing it to cut, swell and begin to bleed. [redacted] lowered his lower lip, and I did observe a small cut to the lip and swelling. I then asked him if he sustained any further injuries, and he informed me he was not sure. I began to look at his neck and I observed red scratch marks on the right side of his neck, the back of his neck and on the side of his back. After observing the injuries, I asked him to standby outside while I made contact with Miss Schuchardt, who was inside the residence.

As I approached the front door, Miss Schuchardt opened the door and began to speak with me. I asked her to explain to me what occurred today. She advised that she came home with "Destiny" and [redacted] was mad and then he called law enforcement. I then asked Miss Schuchardt how [redacted] sustained the injury to his neck, and she informed me that she did not know. I then asked her if the two had been arguing today. She informed me the two were involved in a small verbal argument that lasted five minutes. Miss Schuchardt advised the argument was over personal issues. I then asked her where the argument occurred, and she informed me in the living room. I then asked Miss Schuchardt if I could enter the residence and she obliged. When I entered the residence, I walked into the living room. I observed it was neat, tidy, and I did not observe any obvious signs of a struggle. It should be noted, I could smell the odor of an alcoholic beverage emitting from Miss Schuchardt's breath as she spoke.

I then exited the residence and made contact with Officer VanDusen and Recruit Officer Homen. I asked Officer VanDusen to standby with Miss Schuchardt and Recruit Officer Homen began to speak to [redacted] While she was speaking with [redacted] Officer Mattern arrived on scene, and he also stood by with [redacted] I instructed Recruit Officer Homen to photograph [redacted] injuries while I contacted Captain Kirkland with my findings. After I briefed Captain Kirkland, he informed me that he was responding to the call and requested that I made contact with Volusia Sheriff's Office Sergeant Jimmie Stone, in an attempt to see if VSO would conduct the investigation due to the conflict of interest. Sgt. Stone informed me he would contact his administration and would call me back.

I then began to speak with [redacted] again. I asked [redacted] if he would allow me to view the screenshots of the text messages he had taken of the conversation between the Sgt. Claudio and Miss Schuchardt. After reviewing the screenshots, I asked [redacted] to text message the images to my department issued cell phone, which he did. There was a total of 17 images that were later uploaded to evidence.com.

After reviewing the messages, I instructed Recruit Officer Homen to take digital photographs of [redacted] injuries. See Recruit Officer Homen's supplement for her involvement.

After Recruit Officer Homen completed taking the photographs, [redacted] informed me that Miss Schuchardt told him that she would tell law enforcement caused bruising to her from the incident. It should be noted, Miss Schuchardt was in a law enforcement bicycle school the week prior that NSBPD hosted.

After I delegated tasks to officers on scene, VSO Sgt. Stone called me. After a short period of time, Sgt. Stone informed me that his administration declined to conduct the investigation. Captain Kirkland was then made aware of the information.

When Captain Kirkland arrived on scene, I briefed him on my findings up to that point and he requested that I forward the screenshots of the text messages to his city email, which was completed. Captain Kirkland informed me NSBPD Criminal Investigations Division (CID) would be responding to the scene to take over the investigation.

This concludes my involvement in this case at this time.

NARRATIVE

I responded to [redacted] in reference to a domestic battery. Upon arrival, I stood by with Detective Ishikawa while he interviewed the victim, [redacted] was sworn into his verbal statement and advised the following:

Around 1330 hours, his fiancé, Jessica Shuchardt, arrived home from a friend's house and appeared to be intoxicated. He stated Schuchardt walked in with a beer in her hand, placed her phone on the counter, then went to the bedroom and passed out. He advised that when he saw Schuchardt's phone on the counter, he observed a text message from "Claudio" a person who he had suspicions that infidelity may be occurring with. [redacted] then observed the text message and began going back in the conversation to view previous text messages. While reviewing these previous conversations, [redacted] advised that he read several sexually explicit messages, specifically quoting a message saying she "sucked his dick twice today". [redacted] advised that this would have been a day that the two were working together based on his knowledge of Schuchardt's work schedule and the date the message was sent.

[redacted] stated after he read these text messages, he confronted Schuchardt, who was still asleep in the master bedroom. He advised that this confrontation consisted of him telling her that he read the text messages from Claudio and then told her to get the fuck out. After this confrontation, [redacted] advised that Schuchardt got out of bed, grabbed him by the neck, and pushed him into the corner of the bedroom. While grabbing him by the neck, [redacted] advised that Schuchardt began to dig her nails into his skin and restricted his airflow. [redacted] stated he pushed Schuchardt's hands off of him and told her "get the fuck off me". [redacted] stated he then left the room, but Schuchardt continued to follow him, grabbing him by the neck several more times while yelling, "let's have a conversation". [redacted] advised during this continued altercation Schuchardt also struck him several times with both open hands and closed fists. [redacted] stated he eventually arrived within the living room when Schuchardt jumped on his back and placed him into a rear-naked chokehold. While in this chokehold, [redacted] advised he fell to the ground and had his airway restricted before eventually escaping the choke and telling Schuchardt he was going to call 911. [redacted] then stepped outside of the residence and notified law enforcement of the incident.

While speaking with [redacted] I observed several small lacerations on his neck area which he advised were caused by Schuchardt scratching him. He also later showed me a contusion on the inside of his bottom lip which he stated occurred when Schuchardt struck him.

My observation of Detective Ishikawa's interview concludes my involvement in this case. Please see Det Ishikawa's SA 707 and additional officer's supplements for further details.

NARRATIVE

On 03/05/2024, I responded to [redacted] at the request of Detective Sergeant Morris, to assist with an investigation regarding a domestic battery. I was advised the disturbance involved, Jessica Schuchardt and [redacted] Upon arrival, I made contact with the on-duty patrol sergeant, Sgt. Hunnefeld, Lieutenant Kirkland, and Sgt. Morris. I was briefed on their findings and then proceeded to attempt to interview, Schuchardt. Upon entering the residence, I activated my Axon Body Camera. It should be noted, at the time of the contact, I did not have my Axon camera, and used Det. Trzaska'a camera. As such, the footage of the recorded interview, is listed under his name, in evidence.com.

Jessica Schuchardt's Interview (Axon Captured):

Upon entering the residence, nothing appeared to be in disarray or seemed to be disturbed by a disturbance. As I approached the dining table, I observed Corp. Hunt sitting with Schuchardt at the table. I asked Schuchardt, if she didn't mind, could she fill me in as to what was already said to the other officers. Schuchardt advised, she spent the morning with "Destiny", and when she came home, she fell asleep. Later today, she was a woken by [redacted] screams. I asked Schuchardt what [redacted] was screaming at her. She advised, he was making accusations. After she advised the aforementioned, I read Schuchardt her constitutional rights, from a prepared text. Schuchardt waved her rights and agreed to talk.

[redacted]

[redacted] Soon after, Sgt. Morris entered the residence and informed Schuchardt, that she was being placed under arrest. Schuchardt was later transported to Volusia County Branch Jail, by Ofc. Mattern. This completed my involvement with this case.

2. placed the victim into a "rear naked choke" which also restricted the victim's airway. The defendant
3. struck the victim, against his will, multiple times with an open hand, and closed fist. The defendant

6. THE VICTIM INVOKED THEIR RIGHTS TO CONFIDENTIALITY UNDER MARSY'S LAW

8. On March 5th, 2024, it was requested that the Criminal Investigations Unit respond to [redacted]
9. New Smyrna Beach regarding a domestic violence incident involving an officer of the New Smyrna Beach
10. Police Department. Due to this, I was briefed by Sergeant Hunnefeld, Sergeant Morris and Captain Kirkland
11. about the incident and that it was requested I speak with the victim of the incident.
14. I made contact with the victim, who was later identified to me as [redacted] His
15. identity was later confirmed via [redacted]. Prior to speaking with [redacted] I swore him into his verbal
16. statement. I asked some questions regarding his relationship to the defendant, Jessica Schuchardt.
17. He advised that he was currently engaged to the defendant and has been in a relationship for a total
18. of two and a half years. He said they have been engaged since May 30th, 2023. I then asked [redacted]
19. to provide his account of the incident.
22. It was advised that he was home from work and at approximately 1330 hours, Ms. Schuchardt returned
23. to the residence as well. He stated that she came into the residence and from what he observed, she
24. was intoxicated. He advised this due to knowing that she was at "Destiny Smith's" house drinking all
25. day and that she was slurring her speech and had glazed over eyes. He further stated that she had a
26. large beer can in her hand, however, he did not know the brand of beer. When asked, [redacted] did confirm
27. that he has seen her drunk before and further stated that she was acting the same way as previous times
28. that she was intoxicated. [redacted] said that after walking in, she set her phone on the counter and went to the master bedroom subsequently falling asleep. [redacted] said that he opened up the phone a found a message from Robert Claudio. He advised that these messages were inappropriate. I asked [redacted] to further explain these messages. [redacted] advised that one message between Ms. Schuchardt and Mr. Claudio was that "she sucked his dick twice today". [redacted] said that he knew this took place at work due to knowing Ms. Schuchardt's schedule. The second message that [redacted] advised he read between the two was that she said she was going to go home and grab a "toy" so they can have sexual intercourse. Again, [redacted] advised this was during work due to knowing her schedule. The third message that he could recall was that there was conversation about wanting to have sexual intercourse on a desk.

[redacted] advised that after reading these messages, he went into the bedroom that Ms. Schuchardt was in. He further stated that he slammed the door open and told Ms. Schuchardt to get up and get the "fuck" out. He said that her response to this was jumping out of bed and said "What the fuck?". His response to this was that "I saw the message from Claudio". After stating this, [redacted] advised that Ms. Schuchardt grabbed him by his throat and pushed him in the corner of the bedroom. While doing so, [redacted] airway was restricted. He said that was still able to breath, however, it was a little harder than normal. [redacted] said that he pushed Ms. Schuchardt's hands off of him and said "Get the fuck off of me". [redacted] said that he left, but then she followed him out and screamed to him "Let's just have a conversation". He said that she then grabbed him again by the neck. [redacted] said that he does not remember if it restricted his airway due to this going on for over approximately thirty minutes. [redacted] was able to get away again and advised that he did not want to have a conversation and that he just wanted her to "get the fuck out". After this, [redacted] said Ms. Schuchardt jumped onto his back and put him into a "rear naked choke hold". After being placed into this hold, he said that they fell to the ground. This choke hold cut off his airway greater than the initial throat grab. When asked, [redacted] advised that this did not cause him to be lightheaded. He did state that when she was choking him, she used her nails to dig into his neck each time. It was asked if he was struck after reading his statement. He advised that this was during the entirety of the incident. Theses strikes were explained as slapping, and punches. He also stated that anytime he attempted to pull out his phone to show and/or talk about the messages, she would strike him. I attempted to gather the approximate amount of times that [redacted] was hit but he stated that it was "a lot of times". I then asked [redacted] what took place after the rear naked choke hold. [redacted] said that he was able to roll out of this and got away from her. He said to Ms. Schuchardt that he is done and that he was calling 911. At this time, [redacted] stepped outside. While outside, [redacted] said that Ms. Schuchardt came to the front door. While at the door, [redacted] explained that she said "I'm gonna tell them it was from you" while doing this, she made the action of pointing at her legs. He was able to show me the photograph which did depict bruising on what appeared to be Ms. Schuchardt's legs. In the background of the photographed, the carpet and internet access ports appeared to be the same as the ones located in the briefing room at the New Smyrna Beach Police Department. [redacted] advised the photograph was taken on February 29th of this year. It should be known that I am aware of a bicycle class that Ms. Schuchardt was participating in. I did ask further questions about the statement [redacted] wrote and he advised that his phone was hit out of his hand during the altercation and that he was struck with an open hand slap, prior to calling 911. When asked if [redacted] ever struck Ms. Schuchardt during the incident, whether in self-defense or not, he stated that he never struck her. He did make mention that when she tried to grab the cell phone, while in the kitchen, he did push her back somewhere in her torso. [redacted] was not sure exactly where.

When asked if any prior physical altercations have taken place, [redacted] advised that there were three times prior. He said that they were not the same as this incident. He advised that there was one shove, one grab and that he has never hit her. He explained that one punch from her was to his arm while drinking but nothing that he was concerned about.

I also asked if anything like this has happened before, [redacted] said that "Jason Turner's" wife contacted him about some messages. He said it appeared to be the same kind of stuff but not to the same extent. He said that it appeared to be messages like "I love you", "I miss you" and "Meet up after". These were sent in July or August of 2023. [redacted] said that there was an argument over this, however, it was only verbal.

[redacted] advised that there were suspicions of this due to the constant messages between the two (Mr. Claudio and Ms. Schuchardt). [redacted] advised that he said it was weird. I then asked [redacted] is there anything that I missed during the interview or anything further that I needed to know and he advised, no.

Please see my BWC for the entire interview

After gathering [redacted] verbal account of what took place, I gathered thirty digital photographs of his person. I observed multiple red marks and what appeared to be scratches. The following is what I observed on [redacted] person:

Neck: (1) scratch on the Adam's Apple with fresh blood. Multiple small red marks on each side of his neck appearing to be scratches. On the backside of the neck, multiple marks near the hairline were observed with slightly lacerated skin. The shape of the marks were red and shaped like a fingernail. This appeared to have been caused by the right hand if grabbed from the front.

Mouth: (1) contusion/lacerated skin on the inside of the lip which appeared to be swollen. The area was a darker red color and circular in shape.

Torso: Two slightly vertical light in color marks were found on the left rib cage area. It is unknown what cause these marks.

Hands/Arms/Feet/Legs: No marks indicative to an altercation were found on these areas of the victim.

It was asked of the victim if he could upload the pictures of the messages that he took to Evidence.com. He agreed and uploaded seventeen digital photographs of the messages. These items were later triaged.

Please refer to Evidence.com for further details of the pictures taken on scene and the messages captured by [redacted].

After speaking with the victim, I spoke with Detective Daly and Detective Mathyas. They advised that she was read her Miranda Right's from a department prepared text. [redacted]

It was asked how she sustained the bruises on her legs, and she stated that this was from the bicycle training.

Please see Detective Daly and Detective Mathyas' BWC's and supplements for further details.

The Marsy's Law Form and Sworn Statement was submitted into records at the New Smyrna Beach Police Department.

After conducting my investigation and speaking with Detective Mathyas and Detective Daly, it was found that Ms. Schuchardt strangulated and battered [redacted] She was subsequently placed under arrest and transported to the Volusia County Branch Jail without incident.
