Team Flagler Beach,

It is with great pride and excitement that I announce yesterday's swearing-in of our newest officer, Jessica Schuchardt, to the Flagler Beach Police Department.

Yesterday marks the beginning of what I have no doubt will be a remarkable career in law enforcement. Officer Schuchardt has chosen a noble and honorable profession, and she has chosen to serve the residents and community of Flagler Beach; for that, we are truly fortunate to have her.

To Officer Schuchardt, welcome to the family. You are now part of something bigger than yourself, a proud department with a strong tradition of service, integrity, and dedication to this community. We are behind you every step of the way, and we look forward to watching you grow and thrive in this role. Wear that badge with pride.

To the rest of the department, please join me in extending a warm welcome to Officer Schuchardt. Let's make sure she knows from day one that she is valued, supported, and surrounded by a team that has her back.

Congratulations, Officer Schuchardt. Your journey begins!

With great pride,

Lance C. Blanchette
